

Create a better healthcare experience

Scale your patient engagement solution with new features and reach using a single, quality provider. Bandwidth's unique mix of enterprise-grade APIs and carrier network enable you to deliver reliable communications that connect providers and patients.

Work with a trusted partner

With a single source for your patient communication needs you can increase operational efficiency and reduce costs. And, by adding the features your users want, you can grow your business through a better patient experience that helps you bring in and retain new user.

- Enterprise-grade APIs for text messaging, voice & in-browser calling, authentication, and video
- A global owned-and-operated network in 60+ countries covering more than 90% of the global economy
- Experts to help you navigate changing regulations as you move into new markets

Build personalized patient experiences

Easily integrate text messaging, voice calling, and video into your software or application with Bandwidth's enterprise-grade APIs. With Bandwidth as your source for embedded communications you can tap into new markets and grow your business without the compliance headaches or telecomplexity.

- In-depth, real-time insights into voice and messaging performance
- 24/7 support to help you navigate changing rules & regulations
- Streamline communications between providers & patients

The communications tools you need and want:

Messaging API

Send appointment reminders with 10DLC SMS, Toll-Free SMS, and Short Codes

Voice API

Easily embed crystal clear, globally available voice calling into your software or application

WebRTC Calling

Build a strong telehealth solution with innovative in-browser calling

Video API

Power face to face communications without having to be in the office

Scale your patient engagement solution now!

See how Bandwidth can help you create a better experience for patients and providers. Visit bandwidth.com/industries/healthcare today.

